

Here's that man, Landrum in the Dallas News again:

Devaluing the Dollar

Mr. Roosevelt ran for office in 1932 on a promise, made by Carter Glass at the Rooseveltian request and with subsequent endorsement during the campaign, that he would not disturb the gold standard. Then, after election, he junked the gold standard and cut the dollar to 59c in gold. He had two reasons for breaking his promise.

One reason was that the rest of the world had junked the gold standard. Mr. Roosevelt argued, with some show of reason, that we had to devalue to meet devaluation or else we would be left holding the sack. That is the reason why he asks now to keep this power over the dollar's gold content.

The other reason the President wanted the power to say how many grains of gold were back of a paper dollar was that he had been persuaded into espousing the "rubber dollar."

The Rubber Dollar

Don't be ashamed if you have forgotten how the rubber dollar is supposed to work. There is every reason to assume that Mr. Roosevelt himself has never fully understood it, and very few of his associates seem to know any more about it than he does.

The rubber dollar got its name from its enemies who envisioned it as a dollar arbitrarily worth 60c on Monday, 89c on Tuesday and 30c on Wednesday. Theoretically that is the kind of dollar we recently have had, except that the President may not cut the gold in the dollar to less than 50c, and except the further fact that the President has exercised his authority infrequently.

The real rubber dollar, as conceived by Irving Fisher and others was a proposal to make the cost of living even, one year with another, by altering the amount of gold for which the paper dollar could be redeemed. The buying power of a dollar was to be, on the average of commodities bought, the same in January of 1934 as in December, 1944 (or at any other time.)

The Scheme in Outline

Imagine a basket with a little bit of wheat, a little bit of cotton and a little bit of steel and a yard of silk ribbon and an ounce or so of copper and so on, the commodities chosen and weighed and measured in such a way that the price would be exactly a dollar. Now suppose at any given time you went into the market and at the market price for these articles you could just buy this basket assortment of basic goods for so many grains of gold.

Well, the way to make your paper dollar always buy such a basket of the stated amounts of stated goods would be to announce at Washington that your paper dollar could be redeemed for the amount of grains of gold that such a basket of products cost on the day of redemption.

Of course, the price of wheat might go up and the price of cotton might go down, but the price of the basket of commodities in the amounts fixed for the purpose of setting the standard would always be worth a paper dollar and the paper dollar would always be redeemed for whatever amount of gold it took to buy the basket of commodities. If your basket of commodities, as shown by the market, actually cost more than a dollar, paper, then by posting the fact that the dollar, paper, had more grains of gold back of it, it would buy more and the basket-full would go back to a dollar. If the basket price dropped below the dollar, that would show the dollar was buying too much, and a grain or so of gold taken out would bring it back to one basket's worth.

The Rubber Roosevelt

While there are some "bugs" in the rubber dollar idea which will have to be worked out before the scheme will be practical, we needn't go into all that here. (Dictatorships in foreign countries, for example, complicate all world economies.) It is sufficient to say here that this is the scheme for which Mr. Roosevelt plumped, though he is farther away

A.M. CAMP DIES AT SAN GABRIEL HOME

A. M. Camp, 91, Confederate Soldier and one of two survivors of the Civil War in Milam county, died at the home of his son H. H. Camp at San Gabriel late Monday, July 3, 1939, after a short illness.

In the spring of this year Mrs. A. M. Camp died leaving the aged veteran alone after many years of happy living together at their country home near that of their son at San Gabriel.

Claudette Colbert and James Stewart Give You "Wonderful World," In Film Treat Here Sunday

Heralding the arrival of one of the screen's most notable teamings, "It's a Wonderful World," starring Claudette Colbert With James Stewart, opens at the Cameron Theatre Sunday.

For Miss Colbert this picture marks a return to the buoyant type of comedy vehicles in which she has achieved such notable success characterized especially by that unforgettable film, "It Happened One Night," Academy Award winner.

The production marks James Stewart's third heart affair opposite charming screen heroines in recent months. He stepped from the arms of Joan Crawford in "The Ice Follies of 1939" to wed Carole Lombard in "Made for Each Other," and now shares honors with Miss Colbert in "It's a Wonderful World."

Stewart is cast as Guy Johnson, a private detective hired to keep an oft-married Broadway playboy out of trouble. When this millionaire playboy is accused of murder Stewart becomes involved. He escapes in order to seek a solution of the murder and is caught in the act by Miss Colbert who plays Edwina Corday, a poetess. He enlists her aid and together they track down the real murderer.

In the supporting cast are such sterling players as Guy Kibbee, Nat Pendleton, Frances Drake, Edgar Kennedy and Ernest Truex.

Forty-seven sets were built for the production all of them supposedly in and around New York. These range from elaborate night-club sequences to an apple orchard. Also listed are interiors and exteriors of a train, a yacht, a theatre, a hot-dog stand, an auto camp, a railroad trestle, a motor boat and shots of Sing Sing.

W. S. Van Dyke II directed "It's a Wonderful World," his first production since "Stand Up and Fight" and "Marie Antoinette." Famed for his direction of "The Thin Man," among other successes, "It's a Wonderful World" has given him another opportunity for smart screen detecting punctuated with hilarious comedy situations.

SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Results of the Softball games played Monday night, July 3rd, were: Coca Cola 13, Markham's 5.

Dr. Pepper 4, Mack's Oilers 2.

Standing of the Clubs:

Dr. Pepper	3	3	0	1000
Coca Cola	3	2	1	666
Markham's	3	1	2	333
Mack's Oilers	3	0	3	000

Friday night schedule, July 7: Coca Cola vs. Mack's Oilers. Dr. Pepper vs. Markham's.

The game between Coca Cola and Markham's has been protested to the executive committee on account of a bad decision by Umpire Perkins. The committee has not acted upon the protest, but the game will probably be thrown out and the two teams be required to play the game over.

from it now than when he began.

The columnist is not nearly so much afraid of the rubber dollar as he is of the Rubber Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt has shown that he will falsify a yardstick of electric current cost in order to bludgeon a utility company to its knees and take its property away from it. He probably would be as ruthless at rubbering the dollar if he had the chance to make friends by it or to belabor enemies by it.

Meanwhile, when Mr. Roosevelt took all the gold and buried it in the ground he got clean away from the central idea of the true rubber dollar or market basket dollar, which is the exchangeable of the paper dollar at all times for market-basket's worth of gold. Probably he never grasped the essentiality of that idea. Essential ideas have a way of bouncing off from a rubber mind, you know. Mr. Roosevelt is better at handling superficials in a manner to make them seem truly profound.

Brawler From Black Jack Timber Belt Is Regal City Rage

Violence flared along civic lane this week and Regal Rockdale fattened her battling average. It looked like Cameron might finish way down the list as the year advanced.

The Regal City got in the lime-light again July 4th to forge way out ahead as the hot spot of central Texas. In her latest triumph the Regal City strangled her rough stuff by shooting a holiday guest in the foot and giving place to a lead slinging that threatened to overshadow the Rodeo. It all happened when a brawling son of the black jack timber country, where they have fence wars, staged an unannounced event on the program by riding the city marshal around the arena in a typical feat of Regal City horsemanship.

The Legion boys who handled the French 75's in the late war to guarantee the safety of the Bank of England, were out of the running with such light artillery. It was nothing much in everyday life of the Regal City for a Country Constable or two to be dusted off, but a fortunate turn in the contest enhanced the city's prestige. The Marshal coming in on the stretch spilled his rider and plugged him in the leg, the bullet at the same time, in regal fashion, greeting a guest from Dallas who was shot in the foot.

They were married before an altar of palms and natural greenery banked with zennias. The foreground was made attractive with large baskets of white gladiolas and the aisle for the bridal party was marked off with white standards and ribbon. Preceding the ceremony Miss Lucile Dickard of Austin played "Love's Old Sweet Song," and Price Cross sang "Sweetest Story Ever Told." During the ceremony Miss Dickard softly played "To a

"Wings of The Navy" Gets Call As One of Best Pictures of Year; Opens Here at Cameron Today

Produced with the unstinted co-operation of the United States Navy, "Wings of the Navy," a Warner Bros.-Cosmopolitan picture which effectively dramatizes the thrilling story of naval aviation, opens today and Friday at the Cameron Theatre with a cast headed by George Brent, Olivia de Havilland, John Payne and Frank McHugh.

The most successful in the past of all the Hollywood studios in making fine screen material of the lives of the members of the nation's defense forces, the Warner studio confidently expects "Wings of the Navy" to be acclaimed as the best of all its service pictures.

The background of the new picture lends itself naturally to the depiction of impressive and thrilling scenes and the studio, with the navy's aid, has taken full advantage of the opportunities presented.

About 600 planes, including every type used by the navy, are shown at various times in the course of the story, and there are several shots in which scores of planes take off or land in succession or are seen aloft simultaneously in breath-taking vistas of mass flying. There are also many exciting shots of dazzling maneuvers by individual pilots and several bits of action—including three crashes—which are bound to electrify the beholder.

The spirit and tradition of the aerial wing of the naval service are effectively presented in a story that covers the life of the average navy flier from the beginning of his training to the time when, as a veteran pilot, he can take part in mass flights of huge seaplanes over thousands of miles of open ocean.

Aside from the thrilling and engrossing flying background, the picture is marked by a human and moving story of brotherly affection and a charming romantic motif which for a time, however, threatens to shatter the bonds between the two brothers, played by Brent and Payne, for they both love the same girl, played by Olivia de Havilland.

Jitterbugs Get Break In Comedy Film Here July 11 and 12

When the jitterbugs go to town, they do a good job of it. Jitterbugs from all over the country journeyed to Hollywood when word went out that they could get paid for two full days of dancing during production of Columbia's "Blondie Meets the Boss," Cameron Theatre attraction July 11 and 12 featuring Penny Singleton and Arthur Lake. And if there is anything a jitterbug likes more than dancing, it's to get paid for it.

More than 250 answered dance director Eddie Larkin's call for jitterbugs in time to get into the picture. But long after the special sequences were filmed, they kept arriving in every sort of conveyance known to youth.

Restricted from many dancing places because of the room and the time their strange antics take, these youngsters got their fill of their bizarre dancing during the hilarious jitterbug sequence. "Blondie Meets the Boss" has Arthur Lake and Dorothy Moore accidentally winning the championship from Ray Hirsch and Patti Lacey, national titleholders who play themselves.

Dancing against the background of a picturesque and modernistic cafe set, surrounded by hundreds of Hollywood's best-dressed extras; and with six cameras trained on them, the event was a real holiday for the youngsters.

LITTLE FAMILY OF 4

Fluffy, a blue blood Persian mother cat, widely known to patrons of the Blue Bonnet Cafe, is busy today and very proud. She is industriously mothering four babies, as pretty a litter of little aristocrats as one might wish to see. This is Fluffy's fourth litter. Her kittens have found homes in widely separate sections of Texas.

Fred Jackson, owner of Fluffy, said this morning that she is perhaps the only cat in Texas with a state permit to remain in a cafe. She never disturbs customers. But with mice—well that's one reason the State of Texas says she is O. K. in the Blue Bonnet.

Two of the baby Persians are motley, a highly favored marking and very rare, one is legendary black like the lingering night that Moses laid upon the valley of the Nile, and one is red.

Fluffy was a bright eyed kitten in Rosebud. She spent her early days in the Parish home at Burlington, a gift of Mr. Jackson to Father T. F. O'Sullivan and when the St. Michael Church pastor went to Europe he brought Fluffy back to Mr. Jackson.

Dr. and Mrs. S. R. Cotton will leave Cameron today for a 5 weeks vacation trip. Their destination is unknown to friends here. Dr. Cotton, chiropractor, has been in practice here for several years. Their many friends wish them an enjoyable vacation.

WHAT NEXT?

There is seemingly no end to man's ingenuity as witness these two gadgets—one for the highway, the other for the fairway. Sketch No. 1 shows a mask, controlled from the driver's seat, which flashes disapproval to offending rear guard motorists by means of blazing eyes and protruding tongue. No. 2 shows a tee with a magnetized horseshoe attachment, which permits the tee's recovery by means of iron clubs.

were presented in a unique way when the hostess called Miss Clarke's attention to a whistle somewhere in the background where she and her fiancé must go for further instructions. Entangled in the shrubbery was a twine string which when wound led to a tent in the yard where the gifts were assembled. Miss Clarke opened each gift and they were passed around to be admired by the guests. To conclude the delightful party ice cold watermelon was served, at the table conveniently placed on the lawn. Miss Kathryn Terry presided at the bride's book which was made by Mrs. Harvey Radtke.

On Sunday, July 2, a surprise birthday dinner was given for Mrs. J. W. Carter on her 65th birthday. Those present were the honoree's recent husband, J. W. Carter, Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Johnson and son, Thomas, Porter Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Denson Tindall and sons, Denson, Jr., Byron and Billy Newton, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tomasek, Winnie Belle, and Marvin Tomasek, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lewis, Mrs. Fannie Mae Willey, Mrs. Lennie Blackwell and Edison Fikes all of Cameron, Mr. and Mrs. W. For diversion the guests enjoyed music and conversation throughout the afternoon. Several songs were rendered by Denson Tindall, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Carter opened the gifts which were admired by all and thanked each one in their gracious manner. This was the first time in three years the family had all been united.

Miss Estelle Clarke became, the bride of Mott Terry in a simple ring ceremony occurring this morning at 10 o'clock before an improvised altar of ferns with pink crepe myrtle and white oleanders at First Baptist Church with Rev. V. M. Cloyd, pastor reading the marriage vows. Miss Lela Wills, friend of the bride and with whom she has taught school, played Lohengrin's wedding march as the bride and groom entered the church together. Max McClaren sang "Because" accompanied by Miss Wills at the piano. The bride was beautifully dressed in a powder blue chiffon semi-tailored frock with neat shoulder tucks and corded skirt. She wore blue slippers, a white lace straw picture hat, white gloves and carried a white handbag. For her corsage she chose dainty pink carnations. Observing the age old tradition, she wore for something old a bracelet worn by her mother in her wedding and for something borrowed she wore a necklace belonging to Miss Kathryn Terry, sister of the groom. The groom was attired in a grey business suit and wore a white buttoniere. Mrs. Ralph Clarke, mother of the bride, wore a rose floral crepe with a corsage of white carnations and Mrs. Charlie Terry, mother of the groom wore a pink crepe with corsage of white carnations. Mendelssohn's march was played as a recessional with Miss Wills at the piano. The couple enjoyed luncheon at the home of the bride's mother with only members of the families present. For her going away dress Mrs. Terry wore a navy print with white accessories. They will enjoy their honeymoon at Carlsbad Cavern and interesting points in Old Mexico. Returning through San Marcos they will be entertained with a picnic and swimming party at Barton Springs by Miss Ernestine Shields who at one time was a room mate of the bride. When they return they will be at home at 503 West Third St. Mrs. Terry is the daughter of Mr.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 9.

The Golden Text is: "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me" (Psalms 51:10.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Jesus saith unto them, Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No. And he said unto them, Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes" (John 21:5, 6.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The nature of Christianity is peaceful and blessed, but in order to enter into the kingdom, the anchor of hope must be cast beyond the veil of matter in the Shekinah into which Jesus has passed before us" (pages 40 and 41.)

... and though it has been remarked before, we call it to your attention again because the scientists and the engineers have made the miraculous so commonplace that maybe we have ceased a little to wonder at the marvels all about us. The world progresses at such an accelerated pace that what another day would have hailed as revolutionary progress, we accept today as a matter of course. . . . So it behooves us now and again to take stock of the progress we are making, to call a momentary halt and consciously to wonder at the miracles of our age, to drift back in time to their beginnings and note how far they've come. . . . Do you remember when they called automobiles "horseless carriages"? When one of the hit tunes was "Get Out and Get Under"? When 20 miles an hour was reckless speed and 40 suicidal? When carriage and wagon roads made every journey by automobile a thrilling adventure? When the first mile-a-minute stock car was put on the market? When the town dude "cadil-lacked" down Main Street? . . . It's a far cry from those early days to these; we've come a long way. And we're going farther. The engineers are going to build—are building!—better cars every year! 10 years from now today's automotive marvels may well be yesterday's jalopies. . . . In the service of the automotive industry and its customers, one of whom, if you please, is you, we, too, keep step with the times. From day to day, Humble technicians are seeking new ways to improve the performance of Humble motor fuels, Humble motor oils; they operate under a policy of continuous improvement of all Humble products. . . . And when this day of miracles passes into the next, Humble products will still be second to none!

INDUSTRY!

The Treasury Department shows expenditures of 326 million dollars for the Civilian Conservation Corps for the fiscal year of 1938. The brewing industry pays over a million dollars a day in taxes.

What Beer contributes to the re-building of America would fill a great volume

Over 400 million dollars in taxes every year. Over 1,000,000 jobs. A market for 3,000,000 farm acres of produce.

The brewing industry would like to preserve for itself and the people the many economic benefits it has created in the past five years. Brewers everywhere realize that this is a question bound up with the proper distribution of their mild and wholesome beverage through retail outlets whose character will be a credit to the community. Obviously, the brewers can enforce no laws. But they can—and will—cooperate with the local law-enforcement authorities. They will cooperate with every group—friend or critic—to the end that retail beer outlets give no offense to anyone.

The principal reason Cameron Chamber of Commerce did not join with the Central Texas Chamber of Commerce movement is that to do so would have required $750.00 for Milam county's quota. ### STATUE OF LIBERTY Designed to commemorate the hundredth anniversary of American Independence, this colossal statue in bronze was executed by Frederic Bartholdi, noted French sculptor, and presented to the people of the United States by the people of France. It stands on Bedloe's Island in New York Harbor, where it was placed in 1885 and dedicated October 23, 1886. It is the loftiest statue in the world, measuring, as it does, 305' 11" from mean tide to lighted torch. Forty persons can stand in the head to which there is access by means of a staircase inside. A branch staircase leads up into the extended arm. A powerful electric torch in the right hand carries its symbolic welcome to all to this Land of Liberty.
